Where will the images appear?

In the Golf Game

Your customers select Compete → Online to see the available Tours.

Available tours will include public tours offered by aboutGolf as well as your Private Tours. Your Private Tours will only appear in your simulators.

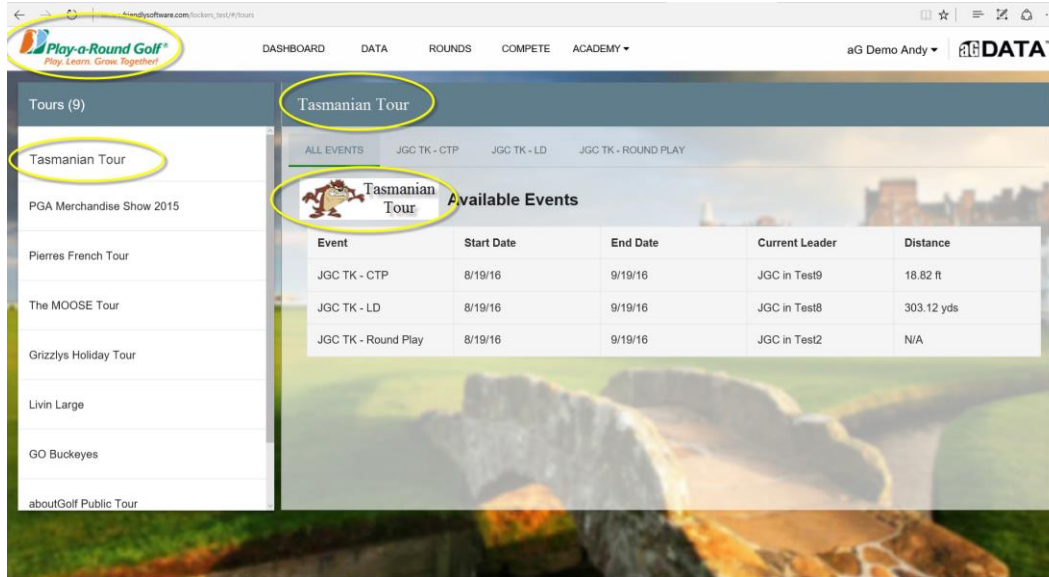

Each Private tour has one or more private events. Private events are established by submitting your request on the Event Request Page.

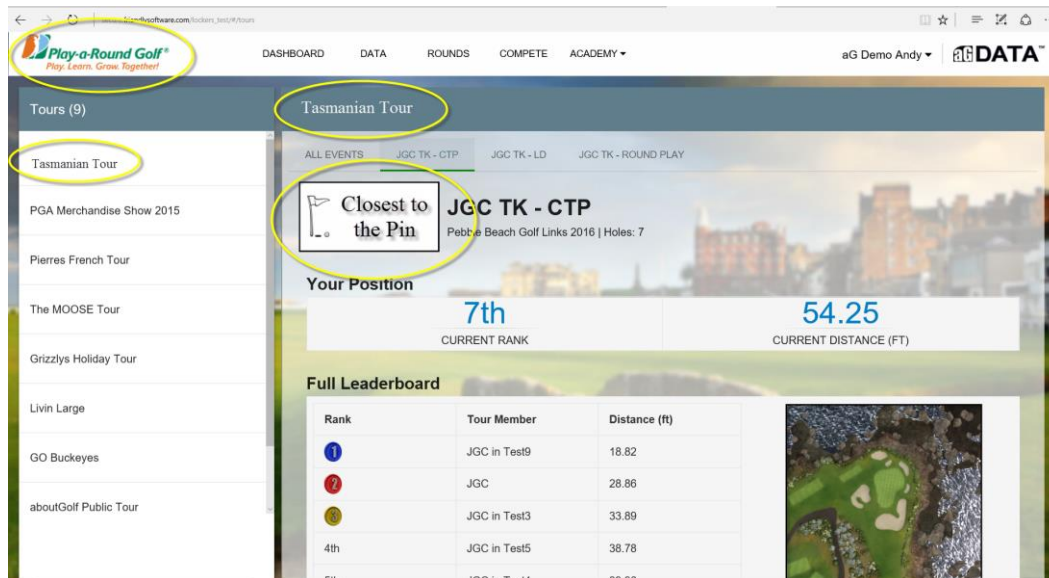

On the aG Data website

Your Private Tour and Private events will appear on the Compete page of the aG Data site. You will have multiple private tours appearing in the panel to the left and each tour will have multiple events summarized in the table appearing to the right.

Selecting a Private Event tab will display the leaderboard and details of that Private event. Remember, your customer has logged in to this website, so the content is personalized for them. They will see their specific leaderboard ranking for their events.

Privacy Recommendation for aG Data

As a Platinum Subscription holder, your clients will have exclusive access to the aG Data website complete with your branding and logo.

aboutGolf strongly recommends disabling the browser feature that offers to save login information. This should be done on all browsers used on your simulator computers. aboutGolf computers come configured with Internet Explorer and Microsoft Edge. Some simulator owners may have changed the browser preference to other solutions, such as Chrome or Firefox.

Why is this important?

Most internet browsers offer the ability to save your id and password when entering via a login screen. Your customer may inadvertently agree to have their id and password saved. With a private computer or a private simulator this is considered a convenience. However, for a public computer where many customers use the browser this can be a privacy risk.

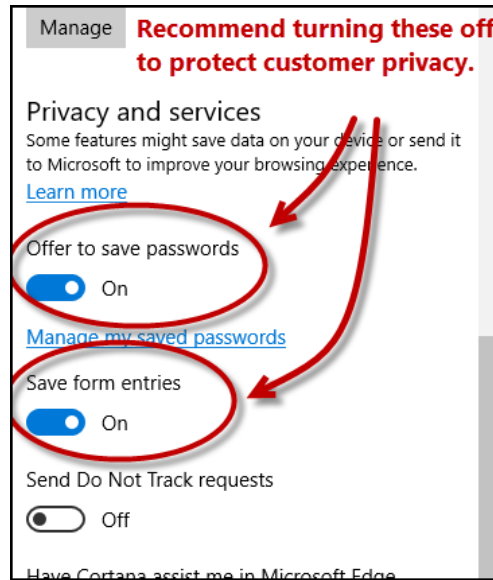

If your browser saves the login information, a customer with a similar name may see a list of names appear as part of the auto-complete feature. If they then select one of the previously saved names, the browser will automatically retrieve and auto-fill their password. Without having to know your password, this person could inadvertently login and have access to your account.

How do I disable it?

For most browsers, you can disable this feature by going to the Privacy section of your browser Settings, as shown below.

Microsoft Edge

Select Settings → View Advanced Settings and then uncheck the following options:

Internet Explorer

Select Settings → Internet Options → Content → AutoComplete Settings

and then uncheck User names and passwords on forms

Chrome

Select Settings → Show Advanced Settings
